Level: I.
Prerequisites:
Course completion conditions: The prerequisite for passing the course is attendance at a minimum of 90% of the teaching and active participation of students in class. The evaluation is in accordance with the classification scale according to the Study Regulations of Matej Bel University. a) continuous assessment: Continuous evaluation is not performed. b) final assessment: The basis for the award of the final grade is the demonstration of mastery of the knowledge of the lecture material, which is demonstrated in an active dialogue with the teacher in the teaching of the subject.
Learning objectives: The aim of the subject is to present the basic features of the development of the state and law from ancient times to the 20th century. It is intended to clarify to the student how law was born, what stages of development it went through in terms of form and content, with an emphasis on the development of public and private law (basically) in the countries of Europe and the USA. After completing the subject, the student should be able to understand the historical context, understand the authentic meaning and content of contemporary terms, clarify the meaning and content of legal institutes, critically evaluate historical legal institutes, the philosophical and value roots of law, and on their basis should be able to create his own opinion on current law and legal systems (not only) in the European area.
Brief outline of the course: Basic characteristics of the state establishment in the Greek poleis. Greek ancient law. Ancient Rome – constitutional development in individual periods. Brief basics of Roman law - selected institutes. Medieval state and law; feudalism and the feudal system. Sources of medieval law in Europe. Reception of Roman law. Medieval public and private law. Specifics of the Anglo-Saxon legal system. Modern age - anti-feudal revolutions, constitutionalism, modern law codifications. The origin and development of the United States of America. US law. The French Revolution, the codification of law during the reign of Napoleon, the influence on the development of modern law.

University: Matej Bel University in Banská Bystrica
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Code: 1d-lin-024	Course name: German Lexical Seminar
Type, extent and method of instruction: Form of instruction: Seminar Course type: B (A - Compulsory courses, B - Compulsory elective courses, C - Elective courses) Recommended number of periods: 26 Method of study: combined
Number of credits: 5
Recommended semester/trimester: 2., 4., 6.
Level: I.
Prerequisites:
Course completion conditions: Attending the seminars is mandatory (no more than 3 absences), preparation for the seminars – fulfilling the given assignments, active participation, acquiring the minimum of 65 points out of a possible 100 for the test. The course must be enrolled through AIS. The student has the right to one resit of the written test. The course assessment corresponds to the A-FX grading scale: A (100 – 94%), B (93 – 87%), C (86 – 80%), D (79 – 73%), E (72 – 65%). b) final assessment: test: 100%
Learning objectives: Students will be able to: 1. identify subtle semantic and stylistic differences (nuances) of two German words which are similar in content, 2. differentiate the meaning of formally similar German words (e. g. different prefixes and the same root of the word) as well as within the language pair German – Slovak (e. g. faux amis – false friends), 3. remember the selected phrases and idioms in German and Slovak and they will be aware of their specifics on the expressional level, 4. apply the aforementioned knowledge in the process of text production and reception, i.e. deciding the adequate German or Slovak variant in the context of a translation.
Brief outline of the course: Work with the basic word classes (mostly nouns, adjectives and verbs), idioms and phrasal units – the emphasis is put on the peculiarities typical for the mentioned word classes and phrasal units from the contrastive point of view within the language pair German – Slovak: e.g. often confused words – similarly sounding words that possess different meaning, e.g. words which have the same root and different affixes, synonymous verbs – one Slovak expression has more German expressions but they cannot be used interchangeably; phrasal units and their equivalents in the opposite language pointing out the discrepancy between form and content.

Learning objectives: Students will be able to acquire basic practical skills in consecutive and simultaneous interpreting and apply the acquired theoretical knowledge (e.g. specific interpreting strategies) of interpretation in practice.
Brief outline of the course: The system of exercises in consecutive and simultaneous interpreting is focused on the developing of skills and habits in apperception of segment produced communiqués and presentation of segments in the target language. Exercises include reciprocal interpreting: Slovak - German, German- Slovak and they are in progress with the gradual gradation of linguistic complexity of the texts, speech rate and the severity of the interpreting conditions. The emphasis is on the removal of language deficit and creation of one's own habits of interpreting reactions. Selected communiqués with lower degree of linguistic difficulty, but this linguistic difficulty is gradually increasing and the main component of the exercises is expansion and refining of vocabularies when developing the interpreting competence. The main theme is "the European Union" and the terminology associated with it, so the majority of texts and language communiqués is focused on this field.

Recommended semester/trimester: 3.
Level: I.
Prerequisites:
Course completion conditions: During the semester, students will write two short interpretive probes of an analysed literary text. After the end of the semester, they will take a final oral exam. It is necessary for student to read the required primary texts as part of the self-study. The course assessment corresponds to the A-FX grading scale. Credits are assigned to students who acquire a minimum of 65 points out of a possible 100. a) continuous assessment: two interpretation probes of literary texts: 0 – 20 points b) final assessment: final oral exam: 0 – 80 points
Learning objectives: Course aims: Students will acquire basic knowledge about the literature of German-speaking countries in the 18th and 19th century and they will deepen their knowledge about the most important literary and aesthetic concepts of German literature of the 18th and 19th century. They will be able to differentiate the literary history in the diversity of its phenomena and social and historical connections. They will apply the acquired knowledge in further development of literary, analytical and interpretation skills on the basis of analyses and interpretations of selected works. Students will be able to interpret the literary works from the thematic, linguistic and compositional point of view and to judge their aesthetic and literary value.
Brief outline of the course: Development of the literary history of the German-speaking countries in the 18th and 19th century. Overview and characteristics of the literary periods (The Enlightenment, the Sturm und Drang movement, classic German literature, romanticism, literature of the Vormärz period, literature of the Biedermeier, realism in the 2nd half of the 19th century, naturalism in the German literature), life and works of the most important German writers of this period (G. E. Lessing, J. W. Goethe, F. Schiller, Novalis, Joseph von Eichendorff, the brothers Grimm, E. T. A. Hoffmann, H. Heine, T. Fontane, T. Storm, G. Keller, G. Hauptmann, etc.). Literary and scientific analysis and interpretation of the selected literary works of all genres of German, Austrian and Swiss writers of the 18th and 19th century and learning the social, historical and literary context of the texts, aesthetic position of the authors as well as the specifics of their works. It is expected that students will individually read the original sources and so they will acquire the required knowledge. A necessary course completion condition is reading of the primary texts as part of the self-study and acquiring basic terminological knowledge and analytical skills that will be applied and developed when interpreting literary texts.

Course Description

University: Matej Bel University in Banská Bystrica
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Code: 1d-lin-030	Course name: Text Linguistics GE
Type, extent and method of instruction: Form of instruction: Lecture / Seminar Course type: B (A - Compulsory courses, B - Compulsory elective courses, C - Elective courses) Recommended number of periods: 13 / 13 Method of study: combined
Number of credits: 5
Recommended semester/trimester: 3., 5.
Level: I.
Prerequisites:
Course completion conditions: Presence in class is required (a maximum of three absences), preparation of a seminar paper – work on the assigned tasks, active participation in classes, acquisition of a minimal knowledge level (a minimum of 65% of assessment of the exam), successfully passing the oral exam. Students must be enrolled in this course through AIS during the particular period. A student has a right for one regular term and one resit of the written exam and one resit of an oral exam. The course assessment corresponds to the A-FX grading scale: A (100 – 94%), B (93 – 87%), C (86 – 80%), D (79 – 73%), E (72 – 65%). b) final assessment: written exam - 40% and oral exam – 60%
Learning objectives: Students will: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. be able to characterize text linguistics as a scientific discipline, define the basic stages of its development from its formation to the present days and incorporate it into the system of other disciplines,</li> <li>2. be familiar with different approaches to classification of texts, be able to evaluate their pros and cons, and apply the given knowledge in practice (i.e. they will be able to comment on possibilities of text exemplars classification to the appropriate text classes),</li> <li>3. be able to comment on the concept of text from the process aspect (production and reception of texts) and reflect the theoretical knowledge into practice,</li> <li>4. be able to comment on the specifics of the different types resp. text classes in theoretical level (i. e. they will know the possible criteria to evaluate a text's properties) as well as a practical level (i.e. will be able to analyse particular test exemplars on the basis of appropriate criteria).</li> </ol>
Brief outline of the course: In relation to current trends in text linguistics directing to the pragmatic-cognitive understanding of textuality, the course is focused on introducing the concept of text in context different historically-based concepts with accentuation of the final pragmatic-cognitive stage. This perception of the concept of text also implies clarifying the media impact (character of the text and its specifics on the background of different media realizations - e-texts, texts on television, etc.) as well as process aspects (reception and production of a text). The explanation of this term, introducing the concept of text as a phenomenon and application of a prototype theory point out the cause of difficulties of unambiguous definition of the concept of a text.
