Learning objectives: Tasks: The objective of this course is to introduce students to the history of translation practice and theory in Eastern Europe, to the discipline methodology, its current state-of-the-art and prospects; to ensure mastering necessary terminology; to make students aware of the functions of translation in the world culture development and to become familiar with representative thinkers, or translators. It is hoped that by the end of the course, the student will have become familiar with: the stages in the development of translation practice and the stages in the development of translation theory in Eastern Europe, current state-of-the-art of translation history, its models and methods, the origin of the methods used by the translation studies student and the methods limitations; and will have been able: be able to: use the principles of the historical approach when evaluating translation phenomena, apply in practice the criteria for assessing the quality of translation and strategies for its implementation; use the basic terminology of translation theory..
Brief outline of the course: 1. A brief history of translation in Eastern Europe in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries: discussions about what literature should be translated for a peasant nation. 2. Censorship of translations in the Russian and Austro-Hungarian empires: how Ukrainian translators avoided the barriers of Russian censorship in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries.

3. "Executed Renaissance" in Ukraine in the sphere of translation. Translation methods and the "campaigning against nationalist translators-wreckers". Opera libretti translation in Ukraine.
4. The formation of translation studies as a theoretical, historical and didactic discipline in the late 1920s and early 1930s. Syllabi of studying translation theory at the university level in Ukraine and Russia.
5. Translation in the Soviet Union during the late Stalinist period. Retranslations and relay translations. "Editorial" translations. Totalitarian translation: on the example of Ukraine, Estonia and Czechoslovakia.
6. The "Thaw" and Translation. Translation in Eastern Europe in the second half of the 1950s and the 1960s. Resistance to Russification.
7. Theories of translation of the 1950s and 1960s in Eastern Europe as immediate predecessors of the modern discipline of translation studies (Czechoslovakia, Russia, Ukraine, Bulgaria, Poland, Estonia).
8. Translation in the 1970s and 1980s. Ideology and translation. Russian-Ukrainian translation: bright and dark sides. Translation during the "normalization" period in Czechoslovakia. The role of paratexts in the promotion of translations.
9. The history of literary translation in independent Ukraine (from the declaration of independence to the present day).
10. Formation of Ukrainian specialized and audiovisual translation.
11. Development of translation studies in independent Ukraine.
12. Development of new types of translation and translation studies in independent Slovakia.

Type, extent and method of instruction: Form of instruction: Prax Course type: A (A - Compulsory courses, B - Compulsory elective courses, C - Elective courses) Recommended number of periods: 30s Method of study: combined
Number of credits: 2
Recommended semester/trimester: 4.
Level: II.
Prerequisites:
Course completion conditions: The students will be assessed according to the prepared portfolio of materials from the pedagogical practice which consists of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • the written records from the didactical attendance of a class during the teaching lessons - attendance of a class by the supervising teacher and student's classmates • written preparations for direct teaching activity including the didactical analysis of teaching materials • student's own evaluation of the pedagogical practice - report from the practice including suggestions and recommendations • written assessments of the particular teaching lessons by the supervising teacher (the assessment is recorded in the assessment sheet, in which the practice supervisor comments on the particular parts of the practice student's work). The students have the possibility to obtain maximum 100 points for the course. The overall final assessment is based on counting the points from the continuous and final assessment and corresponds to the grading scale: A-FX: A (100- 94), B (93 - 87), C (86 - 80), D (79 - 73), E (72 - 65), FX (64 and less). Credits are not assigned to the student who acquires less than 65 points. The requirements and recommended literature are updated every year in the syllables of the particular course. b) final assessment: Portfolio of materials from the pedagogical practice: 0 – 100 points.
Learning objectives: The consistent pedagogical practice is considered as the highest, complex and integrating form of the practical preparation of the students of the pedagogical faculties. The student will know how to integrate the different practical experiences which he/she acquired during the previous forms of practices with new conditions and links which he/she did not know before. The student will have the opportunity to comprehensively observe the performance of a teacher with students in different types of schools. The student will learn how to comprehensively understand the work of a teacher, learn and gradually know how to solve real educational situations that emerge during or away from teaching. The student will acquire the activities and complete tasks very similar to the requirements of a real teacher's job, including his/her extra-teaching activities.
Brief outline of the course:

The main purpose of the pedagogical practice is to plan a teaching lesson according to the instructions made by the supervising teachers, to consult the preparation on teaching with the supervising teacher and after that to independently lead the teaching lesson.

The student understands how the language relates to the cultural and social development and national cultural sovereignty. They understand the social position and function of the Russian language in the broader social, cultural, and pragmatic contexts and how these compare to the Slovak realities. They can apply this specialised knowledge in practice (Slovak vs. Russian comparative viewpoint) to develop communication-pragmatic competences and skills related to the analysis and creation of different types of texts in Russian, and to cultivate their interpretation skills useful in a variety of communication situations. The student understands the generalisations and systematically develops their communication and cultural competences. They also understand the information on the formal as well as semantic levels. They can describe texts as speech units in terms of linguistics, textocentrism, pragmatism, and cognitive aspects. The student understands the principles of text analysis and can use them in practice to characterise a text in terms of linguistics, semantics, and composition. They master the analytic methods and text creation principles, can analyse the linguistic specificities of a text (use and purpose).

University: Matej Bel University in Banská Bystrica
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Code: 2d-vdsl-02	Course name: The Great Works in World Literature II
Type, extent and method of instruction: Form of instruction: Lecture Course type: C (A - Compulsory courses, B - Compulsory elective courses, C - Elective courses) Recommended number of periods: 26 Method of study: combined
Number of credits: 3
Recommended semester/trimester: 2., 4.
Level: II.
Prerequisites:
Course completion conditions: The student prepares an essay in which he/she takes a position on the issue discussed. The final assessment is passed/failed.
Learning objectives: 1. The student will obtain an adequate overview of the origin and functioning of selected representative literary works from several civilizational and cultural areas from medieval literature to contemporary literature; will improve in professional terminology. 2. The student will acquire the specific interpretation skills necessary when working with a literary text anchored in a radically different cultural environment, thereby strengthening tolerance towards cultural differences and the will to respect the right to be different. 3. The student is able to conduct research on the assigned topic, can identify reliable sources, select relevant information from them and present it to others in a clear and useful form. 4. The student will acquire an organized sum of knowledge and a more widely applicable set of useful habits, methods, approaches, competences applicable in the interpretation of literary and non-literary texts or other cultural phenomena from various cultural periods.
Brief outline of the course: Some of the greatest works of the European literature from the Middle Ages to the present day will be presented. It will be a selective selection of the presentation of literary worlds and the values they created. The Divine Comedy as the main work of the Middle Ages or the Renaissance? The Middle Ages as the "cradle" of European culture and education. Testaments enfant terrible. The spiciness of the Decameron and Laura's ephemerality. From Shakespeare to French classical drama. Playwrights and their (non)dramatic characters. Fairy tales that changed the world. Shock the bourgeois! Avant-gardes in world art. Literature as a place for women. On Freedom, Being and Apricot Cocktails: Existentialism in World Literature. Crazy for Life: The Beat Generation and Their Followers. Great works in small publishers.
