Course Description

University: Matej Bel University in Banská Bystrica
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Code: 2d-fju-006	Course name: Intensive Teaching Practice - French
Type, extent and method of instruction: Form of instruction: Prax Course type: A (A - Compulsory courses, B - Compulsory elective courses, C - Elective courses) Recommended number of periods: 30s Method of study: combined
Number of credits: 2
Recommended semester/trimester: 4.
Level: II.
Prerequisites:
Course completion conditions: Continuous assessment consists of active participation in continuous practice and recording. The final assessment consists of a portfolio of materials from pedagogical practice: in writing processed records from the didactic audio recordings of lessons - audio recordings of a trainee teacher/teachers. Part of the final evaluation are written preparations for direct teaching activity, including didactic analysis of the curriculum, self-assessment of the pedagogical practice/continuous (including proposals and recommendations), written assessment of individual learners of lessons by the trainee teacher (we recommend an evaluation sheet in which the trainee teacher expresses himself/herself in structured items for individual items and the overall final assessment of the student on continuous practice (min. 65 points, max. 100 points). The point evaluation for individual components is determined by the approval subjects. Each student chooses a practice school, where he completes 15 hours of practice during the semester, out of one hour of observing a teacher's lesson and 14 hours of own output. The student prepares his lessons in cooperation with the practice teacher (60%). After the end of the semester, he submits a completed file with his own preparations, a written evaluation of the trainee teacher's practice and own written evaluation (40%). The student has the right to one correction deadline for submitting the file. The assessment is carried out according to the classification scale: A (100 - 94 %), B (93 - 87 %), C (86 - 80%), D (79-73%), E (72-65%). Credits will be awarded to a student who has obtained at least 65% for fulfilling the specified conditions. The requirements and recommended literature are updated annually in the course syllabi. a) continuous assessment: lesson observation and teaching outputs (60%) b) final evaluation: filling out the file The student has the right to one correction deadline for submitting the file.
Learning objectives: The student 1. integrates many practical experiences gained during previous forms of practice with new conditions and contexts that he was not familiar with until now.

2. has the opportunity to comprehensively view the work of teachers with students at different types of schools.
3. learns the activities of the teacher in a comprehensive way, learns and gradually knows how to solve specific educational problems or situations that arise during and outside of teaching.
4. acquires activities and performs tasks that are close to the requirements of a real teaching job, including his extracurricular activities.
5. will use relevant professional literature to gain knowledge in the given field
6. writes notes
7. observes interactions in the classroom between the teacher and students and between students
8. observes the teacher's pedagogical approaches and interprets them based on his theoretical knowledge from didactics
9. observes the students' learning process and the students' reactions to the teacher's stimuli and their own stimuli
10. critically analyzes his own outputs
11. cooperates with a trainee teacher
12. prepares preparations for lessons and adjusts them after his own analysis and notes of the training teacher
13. applies theoretical knowledge from didactics into practice

Type, extent and method of instruction: Form of instruction: Prax Course type: A (A - Compulsory courses, B - Compulsory elective courses, C - Elective courses) Recommended number of periods: 30s Method of study: combined
Number of credits: 2
Recommended semester/trimester: 4.
Level: II.
Prerequisites:
Course completion conditions: The students will be assessed according to the prepared portfolio of materials from the pedagogical practice which consists of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • the written records from the didactical attendance of a class during the teaching lessons - attendance of a class by the supervising teacher and student's classmates • written preparations for direct teaching activity including the didactical analysis of teaching materials • student's own evaluation of the pedagogical practice - report from the practice including suggestions and recommendations • written assessments of the particular teaching lessons by the supervising teacher (the assessment is recorded in the assessment sheet, in which the practice supervisor comments on the particular parts of the practice student's work). The students have the possibility to obtain maximum 100 points for the course. The overall final assessment is based on counting the points from the continuous and final assessment and corresponds to the grading scale: A-FX: A (100- 94), B (93 - 87), C (86 - 80), D (79 - 73), E (72 - 65), FX (64 and less). Credits are not assigned to the student who acquires less than 65 points. The requirements and recommended literature are updated every year in the syllables of the particular course.
b) final assessment: Portfolio of materials from the pedagogical practice: 0 – 100 points.
Learning objectives: The consistent pedagogical practice is considered as the highest, complex and integrating form of the practical preparation of the students of the pedagogical faculties. The student will know how to integrate the different practical experiences which he/she acquired during the previous forms of practices with new conditions and links which he/she did not know before. The student will have the opportunity to comprehensively observe the performance of a teacher with students in different types of schools. The student will learn how to comprehensively understand the work of a teacher, learn and gradually know how to solve real educational situations that emerge during or away from teaching. The student will acquire the activities and complete tasks very similar to the requirements of a real teacher's job, including his/her extra-teaching activities.
Brief outline of the course:

The main purpose of the pedagogical practice is to plan a teaching lesson according to the instructions made by the supervising teachers, to consult the preparation on teaching with the supervising teacher and after that to independently lead the teaching lesson.

Number of credits: 3
Recommended semester/trimester: 1., 3.
Level: II.
Prerequisites:
Course completion conditions: At the beginning of the semester, the student gets acquainted with the study regulations and maps the needs of students over whom he has taken over the tutoring. After consultations with the department's study advisor, he/she will prepare a plan of creative activities in order to increase students' awareness. During the semester, he implements information activities, which he/she evaluates at the end of the semester in the form of a report and self-reflection. a) continuous assessment: Analysis and evaluation of suggestions/needs/problems: 0 - 20 points, preparation of activities: 0 - 25 points, implementation of activities: 0 - 25 points, total: 0 - 70 points. b) final assessment: Preparation of the final self-evaluation report on the implemented activities and their results with relevant annexes (plan of activities, promotion, list of participants, photo documentation) and recommendations 0-30 points.
Learning objectives: Student: 1. is able to identify the needs and problems of the students; 2. is able to communicate appropriately in the student community; 3. is able to independently organize consulting activities; 4. applies knowledge of the academic environment in counseling; 5. creates a communication platform on the social network and uses it effectively; 6. is able to evaluate student stimuli; 7. is able to assess appropriate forms of promotion of its activities; 8. is able to evaluate the benefits of their creative activities and present their results.
Brief outline of the course: The tutor cooperates with the departmental coordinators of ECTS in the study counseling and informing of students in study matters arising from the study regulations and valid legislation. As part of the self-study, they will get acquainted with the study regulations. In cooperation with the study advisor, he/she provides students with advice on the selection of subjects and the compilation of the study plan in AiS2. He/she shares with students his/her experience with the selection and provision of study literature, preparation for exams, with the possibility of individual study, obtaining scholarships or participating in the activities of student organizations. The tutor maps, analyzes and evaluates the needs of students (e.g. in the form of an online questionnaire). In cooperation with the department's study advisor or with other tutors he/she prepares presentations and discussions, which he/she effectively promotes. The tutor informs students about important dates in the study schedule. He/she collects suggestions from students, evaluates them and communicates study problems with responsible staff. Suitable platforms on social networks are used for communication.

Level: II.
Prerequisites:
Course completion conditions: In the course of the semester students will prepare for seminars and will be assessed based on their activity at the seminars (max. 41 points), they will write a paper on an assigned topic (max. 24 points) which they will later present during the seminar and they will defend their final seminar paper (max. 35 points). The course assessment corresponds to the A-FX grading scale: A (100 – 94%), B (93 – 87%), C (86 – 80%), D (79 – 73%), E (72 – 65%). Credits are assigned to the student who acquires a minimum of 65 points out of a possible 100. a) continuous assessment: a) continuous assessment: Continuous assessment will contain the following: active participation, the student's preparedness for each seminar, the level of content and presentation of the paper. b) final assessment: Final seminar paper (max. 35 points).
Learning objectives: . The course does not focus on the acquisition of facts presented in the traditional history of events but rather on the acquisition of knowledge through anthropological and semantic methods and based on a multi-perspective approach. 2. Students will be led to analyse the abstract symbolic aspects of life and historical memory in the context of neighbouring cultures, which will allow them to recognize less apparent but essential facets of national and civil formation processes in the 19th century. 3. Students will develop a deeper, more structured and less conventional image of the Slovak national identity formation (and neighbouring nations), they will understand the vigour and limits of modern nationalism, as well as specific aspects of the development of Slovak society that determined its historical memory and mentality during the 20th century.
Brief outline of the course: 1. The concept of modern national identity. Factors and tools of its formation and establishment. 2. The changes in historiography – formation of national historiographies and transformation of historical memory. Historicism as a tool of national emancipation. 3. Historical concepts of Slovak history in the 19th century – between the idea of the Hungarian Empire and the idea of a thousand-year oppression.

4. Great Moravia and its rise to a national symbol.
5. National symbols, the specific elements of symbols. Theoretical definition of symbols and national symbols, their functions, forms, structure, determinants.
6. Creators, bearers and recipients of symbols. Symbols and stereotypes, celebrations, myths.
7. Historical and natural symbols. An intimate understanding of one's own country.
8. Leading figures as symbols and their celebrations.
9. Folk culture vs. high culture in pursuit of one's own symbols.
10. History and presence of heraldic symbols and anthems.
11. The role of the state and political power in the formation of historical memory and world of national symbols. Their marginalization.
12. Radical changes in memory and symbology after 1918.

University: Matej Bel University in Banská Bystrica
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Code: 2d-vdsl-02	Course name: The Great Works in World Literature II
Type, extent and method of instruction: Form of instruction: Lecture Course type: C (A - Compulsory courses, B - Compulsory elective courses, C - Elective courses) Recommended number of periods: 26 Method of study: combined
Number of credits: 3
Recommended semester/trimester: 2., 4.
Level: II.
Prerequisites:
Course completion conditions: The student prepares an essay in which he/she takes a position on the issue discussed. The final assessment is passed/failed.
Learning objectives: 1. The student will obtain an adequate overview of the origin and functioning of selected representative literary works from several civilizational and cultural areas from medieval literature to contemporary literature; will improve in professional terminology. 2. The student will acquire the specific interpretation skills necessary when working with a literary text anchored in a radically different cultural environment, thereby strengthening tolerance towards cultural differences and the will to respect the right to be different. 3. The student is able to conduct research on the assigned topic, can identify reliable sources, select relevant information from them and present it to others in a clear and useful form. 4. The student will acquire an organized sum of knowledge and a more widely applicable set of useful habits, methods, approaches, competences applicable in the interpretation of literary and non-literary texts or other cultural phenomena from various cultural periods.
Brief outline of the course: Some of the greatest works of the European literature from the Middle Ages to the present day will be presented. It will be a selective selection of the presentation of literary worlds and the values they created. The Divine Comedy as the main work of the Middle Ages or the Renaissance? The Middle Ages as the "cradle" of European culture and education. Testaments enfant terrible. The spiciness of the Decameron and Laura's ephemerality. From Shakespeare to French classical drama. Playwrights and their (non)dramatic characters. Fairy tales that changed the world. Shock the bourgeois! Avant-gardes in world art. Literature as a place for women. On Freedom, Being and Apricot Cocktails: Existentialism in World Literature. Crazy for Life: The Beat Generation and Their Followers. Great works in small publishers.
