b) final assessment: Portfolio of materials from teaching practice: - written records from teaching observations of lessons – teaching observations of student teachers and classmates, - written preparations for student teaching activity, including didactic analysis of the curriculum, - own evaluation of teaching practice – practice report including suggestions and recommendations, - written evaluations of particular lessons taught by the student teacher (this evaluation uses an evaluation sheet in which a student teacher comments on individual parts of the educational process). Maximum number of points possible for the whole course is 100. Overall final assessment is based on continuous and final assessment and it corresponds to the A-FX grading scale: A (100 – 94%),

B (93 – 87%), C (86 – 80%), D (79 – 73%), E (72 – 65%). Credits are not assigned to students who acquire less than 65 points.

Conditions and recommended literature are updated every year in the course syllabi.

Learning objectives:

After the successful completion of the course, the student will be able to apply the acquired theoretical knowledge from the study of general didactics, didactics of qualification, pedagogic, and psychological disciplines to particular lessons. The student as teacher will be able to perform in front of students, be exposed to new curriculum using a variety of methods, actively engage with students, and implement didactic diagnoses and evaluation. According to instructions of the student's teachers, the student will be able to develop elaborate preparations for lessons.

Brief outline of the course:

Contents of the course for continuous teaching practice is to develop projects for lessons, consult the preparation for the lessons with the didactic specialist of the department, and subsequently lead an independent lesson.

Prerequisites:
Course completion conditions: The maximum number of points consisting of continuous and final assessment is 100. Credits are assigned to the student who acquires the minimum of 65 points out of the possible 100 for completing the given requirements. a) continuous assessment: Processing the selected text chapter: 0–25 p. Specialised essay and its presentation: 0–25 p. b) final assessment: Final specialised essay: 0–25 p. Final written exam: 0–25 p.
Learning objectives: The student 1. has complex systematic theoretical, specialised, and methodological knowledge of environmental ethics and the way normative ethics is applied to a specific set of theoretical and practical problems/questions 2. understands the axiological theories and values in the context of nature and natural entities as well as the theoretical approaches to environmental ethics 3. can explain the links between science, evolutionary thinking, environmental and ecological ethics; can justify the non-instrumental value of nature and natural entities, describe and categorise the variability of approaches (human – nature). 4. reflects the ethical problems in a critical way, approaches them creatively and applies their analytical competences in practice to evaluate moral judgement, decision-making, taking actions, and can justify norms. 5. understands the basic theoretical postulates in contemporary eco-ethical discourse and can evaluate certain practical problems from a specific theoretical viewpoint.
Brief outline of the course: 1. Environmental ethics as a type of applied ethics. From ecology to ecological and environmental ethics – interdisciplinarity and transdisciplinarity. Environmental vs. ecological. Environmentalism. Ecologism. 2. Moral-philosophical implications of ecological sciences in the eco-ethical discourse. Ecological knowledge as a path to harmony between humans and the Earth.

3. The historical and philosophical roots of the human vs. nature relationship in western thinking. The genesis of environmental ethics.
4. Naturalism, critical realism, and constructivism in environmental ethics. Nature as an ontological-evolutionary category (J. Dewey's evolutionary naturalism, H. Jonas' new ontology of nature, J. Šmajs' evolutionary ontology – a comparative analysis).
5. Values, assessment, the relationship of values and knowledge in environmental ethics.
6. Moral pluralism and monism, anthropocentric vs. non-anthropocentric value approaches and reasoning in environmental ethics.
7. Theoretical methodological approaches in environmental ethics. A. Leopold's land ethic. A. Schweitzer's reverence for life.
8. Ecophilosophy and ecoethics of Henryk Skolimowski. New reading of nature and new cosmology. New value orientation and the idea of a sacred world.
9. Ethics for a technological civilisation. H. Jonas: ethic of responsibility and heuristics of fear.
10. F. Capra and the search for an ecological paradigm in holism. J. E. Lovelock and the Gaia hypothesis as a known necessity in ecological ethics.

Type, extent and method of instruction: Form of instruction: Prax Course type: A (A - Compulsory courses, B - Compulsory elective courses, C - Elective courses) Recommended number of periods: 30s Method of study: combined
Number of credits: 2
Recommended semester/trimester: 4.
Level: II.
Prerequisites:
Course completion conditions: The course assessment corresponds to the standard A-FX grading scale: A (100 – 94%), B (93 – 87%), C (86 – 80%), D (79 – 73%), E (72 – 65%). If the student gains 64% and less, he/she is given Fx (failed). Credits are assigned to the student who acquires a minimum of 65 points out of possible 100. a) continuous assessment: Preliminary assessment is based on active participation in continuous practice and creating a teacher's diary (taking notes from practice). b) final assessment: The final assessment consists of the final portfolio which consists of materials from ELT practice: written observations of peers during their teaching, analyses done with in-service teachers, creating a teacher's diary. Lesson plans are also part of the final assessment together with analysis of the topic, self-evaluation of ELT practice (together with tips and recommendations), written evaluation of lessons taught by the pre-service teacher by in-service teacher (we recommend to use evaluation sheet with structured items related to different aspects of teaching (min. 65 points, max. 100 points). The number of points acquired are specified according to the subject studied in the given teacher training program. The ELT practice can be also realized through the method of service-learning conditioned by the student's successful completion of SL subjects.
Learning objectives: Continuous pedagogical practice is considered to be the the most complex and the most important part for future teachers studying at the Faculty of Arts and Faculty of Pedagogy. 1. the student is able to integrate a range of practical experience which he gained during his ELT practice, 2. the student has got a chance to see the peculiarities of the in-service teacher's work at different lower and higher secondary schools, 3. the students views the work of the teacher in a complex way, he learns how to deal with different issues which may arise during class, and beyond, 4. the student acquires techniques and strategies used in real teaching occupation, including extracurricular activities.
Brief outline of the course:

The main aim of the pedagogical practice is to create a lesson plan/project which will be carried out among pupils at selected lower or higher secondary school, based on the recommendations provided by in-service teachers and counselling with university lecturers in charge of ELT practice.

Code: 2d-prx-004	Course name: Intensive Teaching Practice PHI
Type, extent and method of instruction: Form of instruction: Prax Course type: A (A - Compulsory courses, B - Compulsory elective courses, C - Elective courses) Recommended number of periods: 30s Method of study: combined
Number of credits: 2
Recommended semester/trimester: 4.
Level: II.
Prerequisites:
Course completion conditions: a) continuous assessment: - participation in teaching practice – teaching observations and independent performances b) final assessment: Portfolio of materials from teaching practice: - written records from teaching observations of lessons – teaching observations of student teachers and classmates, - written preparations for student teaching activity, including didactic analysis of the curriculum, - own evaluation of teaching practice – practice report including suggestions and recommendations, - written evaluations of particular lessons taught by the student teacher (this evaluation uses an evaluation sheet in which a student teacher comments on individual parts of the educational process). The maximum number of points possible for the whole course is 100. Overall final assessment is based on continuous and final assessment and it corresponds to the A-FX grading scale: A (100 – 94%), B (93 – 87%), C (86 – 80%), D (79 – 73%), E (72 – 65%). Credits are not assigned to students who acquire less than 65 points. Conditions and recommended literature are updated every year in the course syllabi
Learning objectives: Uninterrupted teaching practice is considered paramount to the comprehensive and integrative form of practical preparation of a student/teacher in the teaching department. The student will be able to integrate various practical experiences achieved in the previous forms of practice with new conditions and connections that were so far unknown. The student will have the opportunity to comprehensively observe the teacher's activity, learn and later be able to solve particular educational situations that arise in the process of teaching and away from it. The student will acquire activities and perform tasks that are close to requirements of a real teacher's course load including their extra-curricular activities.
Brief outline of the course: Contents of the course for continuous teaching practice is to develop projects for lessons, consult the preparation for the lessons with the didactic specialist of the department, and subsequently lead an independent lesson.

Course Description

University: Matej Bel University in Banská Bystrica
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Code: D_2_LpP_cupv	Course name: Practice Laboratory
Type, extent and method of instruction: Form of instruction: Seminar Course type: C (A - Compulsory courses, B - Compulsory elective courses, C - Elective courses) Recommended number of periods: 26 Method of study: combined
Number of credits: 4
Recommended semester/trimester: 1., 3.
Level: II.
Prerequisites:
Course completion conditions: a) continuous assessment: participation in SILab activities – 50% of the overall grade b) final assessment: preparation and presentation of a semester project – 50% of the overall grade Within the continuous assessment, students complete assignments based on project-oriented learning implemented in the Social Innovation Living Lab (SILab) environment. The assessment includes active participation in classes and SILab activities, as well as participation in activities carried out in cooperation with external partners from practice. The final assessment consists of the preparation and presentation of a semester project focused on proposing a solution to a specific real-world problem (e.g., a business model, an innovative solution, a strategy, etc.). A student receives a “passed” grade if they achieve at least 65% of the total course evaluation by fulfilling the specified requirements. A resit for the continuous assessment can be completed no later than the last week of teaching and ongoing study obligations and consists of completing substitute assignments. A resit for the final assessment can be completed during the period designated for completing study obligations and consists of a revised or newly prepared semester project and its presentation, focused on proposing a solution to a specific real-world problem.
Learning objectives: The student: 1. uses appropriate scientific and analytical methods to solve assignments and is able to independently and methodologically correctly address research and applied tasks, 2. applies methods of collecting and processing primary and secondary data in practice, evaluates their suitability, formulates research questions and proposes solutions, 3. designs solutions to problems including an action plan and implementation strategy, applying principles of innovation ecosystems and smart solutions in public, private, and non-profit sectors, 4. designs and tests solutions in a living lab (SILab) using participatory approaches, creates and evaluates business models with regard to sustainability and ESG, 5. works with data and digital tools in designing solutions, 6. uses participatory and co-creation approaches when engaging stakeholders, 7. evaluates the social and economic impact of solutions, integrates knowledge from different disciplines, and presents results to both professional and general audiences.

Brief outline of the course:

Introduction to the course, idea generation, identification of business opportunities, definition of vision and strategic goals. Social economy, social entrepreneurship, legal framework of social enterprises in Slovakia, business models with social impact, impact measurement, ESG, CSR and non-financial reporting. Course Description

University: Matej Bel University in Banská Bystrica
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Code: 2d-adp-004	Course name: State Exam Master's Thesis Defence
Type, extent and method of instruction: Form of instruction: Course type: A (A - Compulsory courses, B - Compulsory elective courses, C - Elective courses) Recommended number of periods: Method of study: combined
Number of credits: 20
Recommended semester/trimester: 3., 4..
Level: II.
Prerequisites:
Course completion conditions: The conditions for obtaining grades A to E or Fx take into account all components of the state examination, which will be awarded by the State Examination Committee, are updated and listed in the syllabi for the state examination.
b) final assessment: Final evaluation: The state examination has two components: (1) Thesis defence. The thesis supervisor and the thesis opponent write a review of the thesis and propose a grade. The State Examination Committee comprehensively evaluates the quality of the thesis on the basis of the reviews and the student's defence of the thesis. (2) The State Examination includes a colloquium debate (Methodological Instructions for the State Examination, 2022). In the colloquium, the student responds to the formulated questions and topics in the form of a more broadly conceived problem related to the thesis, the solution of which requires the student's knowledge of the issue presented in the syllabi for the state examination. These are based on a disciplinary-didactic basis, on a social-scientific and pedagogical-psychological basis in relation to the psychodidactic context of education.
Learning objectives: 1. The student acquires deeper knowledge of the solved problem of the diploma thesis, the broader context of the subject and is able to understand the contexts of the solved problem, to formulate clear conclusions from the diploma thesis and clear recommendations for practice, to understand the interrelationships of knowledge from the individual university courses. 2. In accordance with the description of the field of study, the graduate of the master's study will demonstrate in the colloquial defence of the master's thesis, especially in the pedagogical-psychological and social-scientific part (the so-called common basis): (1) theoretical knowledge and (2) practical skills by presenting the possibility of didactic transformation of the thesis topic into the educational process in the selected target group of pupils on a concrete example of modelling the specified didactic variables in general psychodidactic contexts (in accordance with the content of the pedagogical-psychological courses completed during the studies). 3. The student uses relevant professional sources and identifies significant ideas for the context of the issue addressed, theoretical knowledge of the problem addressed in practical diagnostic and didactic applications, or in the methodology of its research, and the broader pedagogical, psychological and social contexts in explaining the problem addressed. The student uses and applies knowledge of bibliographic and citation standards.

4. The student is able to analyze the solved problem into logically and systematically separated and interrelated structural parts of the thesis, to conceive and verify didactic procedures and educational programs for solving the problem of the thesis, respectively, to design and implement its research and interpret its results. The student can critically handle the theoretical background of the solved problem, synthesize the contextual knowledge and use it in professional communication when arguing and defending own point of view on the solved problem.

5. The student will produce a consistent professional text of a theoretical-didactic or theoretical-research nature, which includes a creative treatment of relevant professional sources, original own ideas and proposals for solutions to the problem being treated.

Brief outline of the course:

1. Professional knowledge of the thesis topic, its international, social, broader pedagogical-psychological context.

2. Focus of the thesis topic in the field of teaching and pedagogical sciences, for the relevant level (ISCED 2, ISCED 3).

3. Didactic transformation of the selected theoretical knowledge of the given specialization.

4. Methodology of research of the addressed problem.

5. Integration of the knowledge of the individual disciplines of higher education and the broader context of the theoretical background of the subject, according to the syllabi for the state examination. Integration of educational theory and practice on the example of the problem solved in the thesis.

6. Professional communication and argumentation.

7. Work with literature, bibliographic and citation standards.

8. Presentation skills.

Course Description

University: Matej Bel University in Banská Bystrica
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Code: 2d-dpo-005	Course name: State exam / Master's thesis defence
Type, extent and method of instruction: Form of instruction: Course type: A (A - Compulsory courses, B - Compulsory elective courses, C - Elective courses) Recommended number of periods: Method of study: combined
Number of credits: 20
Recommended semester/trimester: 3., 4..
Level: II.
Prerequisites:
Course completion conditions: The state exam consists of two parts: (1) Diploma thesis (DT) defence. The diploma thesis supervisor and its reviewer create reviews and provide assessment. The State Examination Commission provides a complex evaluation of the DT's quality based on the reviews and student's thesis defence. (2) The state examination also includes a specialised discussion (Methodological Instruction on the State Examination, 2022). During the discussion, the student responds to questions addressing the broader context of their DT subject matter to prove they have the knowledge pertaining to the state examination topics. These topics address the subject didactics, basics of social sciences, pedagogy, and psychology in the psychodidactic context of education. The conditions for obtaining grades A to E take into account both parts of the state examination. They are specified in the current state examination topics.
Learning objectives: 1. The student has advanced knowledge and understanding of the subject matter addressed in the Diploma thesis including its broader context. They can formulate clear conclusions and practical recommendations. The student has developed systematic knowledge of the individual disciplines addressed during their university study. 2. In accordance with the field of study description, the student is required to prove the following (especially in the core curriculum disciplines – pedagogical psychology and social sciences) knowledge and skills: 1) theoretical knowledge 2) practical skills and the ability to apply them in teaching the selected target group of students by providing a specific example of modelling the selected didactic variables in the general psychodidactic context (in accordance with the pedagogical and psychological disciplines that were part of the study). 3. In accordance with the field of study description, the student is required to prove the following: 1) theoretical knowledge 2) practical skills (in the scope of their DT) and the ability to apply them in teaching the selected target group of students by providing a specific example. 4. The student can identify relevant specialised sources as well as the ideas important for the context of their thesis. They have theoretical knowledge of the research topic in practical diagnostic and didactic contexts. They understand the research methodology, and the broader pedagogical, psychological, and social context of the problem. The student follows the bibliographic and citation standards.

5. The student can analyse the subject matter and arrange it into logically and systematically separated and interconnected structural parts of the thesis, design and verify the didactic procedures applied to the subject matter addressed in their thesis, design and implement research, and interpret its results. They can use the theory critically, synthesize the contextual knowledge, and use it in specialised communication, i.e. argumentation and defence of their opinion on the subject matter.
6. The student creates a consistent specialised text (focused on theory/didactics or theory/research) in which they approach the relevant specialised sources in a critical manner and uses the relevant sources in a creative way. They can creatively process the relevant specialised sources, offer own original ideas and ways of addressing the subject matter.

Brief outline of the course:

1. Expert knowledge of the diploma thesis (DT) topic including its broader international, social, pedagogical and psychological contexts.
2. DT thesis topic in the context of the Teacher Training and Education Science FoS (ISCED 2 and 3).
3. Didactic transformation of the selected theoretical knowledge of the academic subject.
4. Research methodology.
5. Integrated knowledge of the disciplines studied including their broader context in accordance with the state examination topics. Integrated knowledge of the theory of upbringing applied to the DT topic.
6. Specialised communication and argumentation.
7. Working with literature, bibliographic and citation standards.
8. Presentation skills.

Recommended literature:

1. In accordance with the DT topic.

Number of credits: 3
Recommended semester/trimester: 3.
Level: II.
Prerequisites:
Course completion conditions: At the beginning of the semester, the student gets acquainted with the study regulations and maps the needs of students over whom he has taken over the tutoring. After consultations with the department's study advisor, he/she will prepare a plan of creative activities in order to increase students' awareness. During the semester, he implements information activities, which he/she evaluates at the end of the semester in the form of a report and self-reflection. a) continuous assessment: Analysis and evaluation of suggestions/needs/problems: 0 - 20 points, preparation of activities: 0 - 25 points, implementation of activities: 0 - 25 points, total: 0 - 70 points. b) final assessment: Preparation of the final self-evaluation report on the implemented activities and their results with relevant annexes (plan of activities, promotion, list of participants, photo documentation) and recommendations 0-30 points. The evaluation is performed according to the classification scale: A (100 - 94%), B (93 - 87%), C (86 - 80%), D (79 - 73%), E (72 - 65%). Credits will be awarded to a student who has obtained at least 65 out of 100 points.
Learning objectives: Student: 1. is able to identify the needs and problems of the students; 2. is able to communicate appropriately in the student community; 3. is able to independently organize consulting activities; 4. applies knowledge of the academic environment in counseling; 5. creates a communication platform on the social network and uses it effectively; 6. is able to evaluate student stimuli; 7. is able to assess appropriate forms of promotion of its activities; 8. is able to evaluate the benefits of their creative activities and present their results.
Brief outline of the course: The tutor cooperates with the departmental coordinators of ECTS in the study counseling and informing of students in study matters arising from the study regulations and valid legislation.

As part of the self-study, they will get acquainted with the study regulations. In cooperation with the study advisor, he/she provides students with advice on the selection of subjects and the compilation of the study plan in AiS2. He/she shares with students his/her experience with the selection and provision of study literature, preparation for exams, with the possibility of individual study, obtaining scholarships or participating in the activities of student organizations. The tutor maps, analyzes and evaluates the needs of students (e.g. in the form of an online questionnaire). In cooperation with the department's study advisor or with other tutors he/she prepares presentations and discussions, which he/she effectively promotes. The tutor informs students about important dates in the study schedule. He/she collects suggestions from students, evaluates them and communicates study problems with responsible staff. Suitable platforms on social networks are used for communication.

University: Matej Bel University in Banská Bystrica
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Code: 2d-vdsl-02	Course name: The Great Works in World Literature II
Type, extent and method of instruction: Form of instruction: Lecture Course type: C (A - Compulsory courses, B - Compulsory elective courses, C - Elective courses) Recommended number of periods: 26 Method of study: combined
Number of credits: 3
Recommended semester/trimester: 2., 4.
Level: II.
Prerequisites:
Course completion conditions: The student prepares an essay in which he/she takes a position on the issue discussed. The final assessment is passed/failed.
Learning objectives: 1. The student will obtain an adequate overview of the origin and functioning of selected representative literary works from several civilizational and cultural areas from medieval literature to contemporary literature; will improve in professional terminology. 2. The student will acquire the specific interpretation skills necessary when working with a literary text anchored in a radically different cultural environment, thereby strengthening tolerance towards cultural differences and the will to respect the right to be different. 3. The student is able to conduct research on the assigned topic, can identify reliable sources, select relevant information from them and present it to others in a clear and useful form. 4. The student will acquire an organized sum of knowledge and a more widely applicable set of useful habits, methods, approaches, competences applicable in the interpretation of literary and non-literary texts or other cultural phenomena from various cultural periods.
Brief outline of the course: Some of the greatest works of the European literature from the Middle Ages to the present day will be presented. It will be a selective selection of the presentation of literary worlds and the values they created. The Divine Comedy as the main work of the Middle Ages or the Renaissance? The Middle Ages as the "cradle" of European culture and education. Testaments enfant terrible. The spiciness of the Decameron and Laura's ephemerality. From Shakespeare to French classical drama. Playwrights and their (non)dramatic characters. Fairy tales that changed the world. Shock the bourgeois! Avant-gardes in world art. Literature as a place for women. On Freedom, Being and Apricot Cocktails: Existentialism in World Literature. Crazy for Life: The Beat Generation and Their Followers. Great works in small publishers.

Course Description

University: Matej Bel University in Banská Bystrica
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Code: 2d-ajp-311	Course name: Umelá inteligencia v akademickom prostredí, preklade a tlmočení
Type, extent and method of instruction: Form of instruction: Seminar Course type: C (A - Compulsory courses, B - Compulsory elective courses, C - Elective courses) Recommended number of periods: 26 Method of study: combined
Number of credits: 3
Recommended semester/trimester: 2., 4.
Level: II.
Prerequisites:
Course completion conditions: The student regularly participates in seminars focusing on the use of artificial intelligence in an academic environment, translation and interpreting. The course involves work with AI tools, ongoing experimentation with their capabilities, and reflective analysis of their potential applications in academic study and research. Successful completion of the course requires active participation and systematic engagement with these technologies. At the end of the semester, the student submits an output demonstrating how artificial intelligence was applied in their studies. This submission must include a reflection on the ethical use, limitations, and benefits of AI. This output is assessed as part of the course completion requirements.
Learning objectives: After successful completion of the course, students gain practical experience in using artificial intelligence tools for academic work, translation and interpreting. They will have developed the specific competencies necessary for the ethical, critical, and effective use of AI in study, research, translation, interpreting, and producing academic outputs. Students will be able to independently identify appropriate AI tools for a specific task, define the objectives of their use, select an optimal workflow, and evaluate the results
Brief outline of the course: As part of the activities, students will become familiar with the practical and critical applications of artificial intelligence tools in an academic environment, particularly in translation and interpreting. The course develops students' ability to use AI effectively as a supportive tool in research, source management, interpreter training, and the translation process. It emphasises the importance of academic integrity, ethics, and the responsible use of technology. Students learn and apply the most suitable AI tools for specific stages of work, formulate precise instructions (prompts), critically evaluate AI outputs, and consider their limitations in academic and professional contexts.
