Requirements and recommended literature are updated every year in the course's syllables.

Learning objectives:

The student will be able to:

1. Integrate the heterogeneous practical experience which he/she acquired during the previous practice with new conditions and links the student did not know before.
2. Have the opportunity to comprehensively observe the work of Slovak language and literature teachers with students in various types of schools.
3. Comprehensively learn the activity of a teacher.
4. Learn the particular educational situations formed during and outside of the teaching process.
5. Acquire activities and perform tasks near to the requirements of an actual teaching job, including outer teaching activities.

Brief outline of the course:

Continuous teaching practice is considered the highest, complex and integrating form of the practical preparation of students from pedagogical faculties. The content of the continuous pedagogical practice is the preparation of a teaching lesson project on language, writing and literary components from the Slovak Language and Literature course in lower and higher secondary education according to the instructions from the supervising teachers, consulting the preparation with the supervising teacher and then consequently leading the teaching lesson by himself/herself.

Number of credits: 5
Recommended semester/trimester: 3.
Level: II.
Prerequisites:
Course completion conditions: The maximum number of points consisting of continuous and final assessment is 100. Credits are assigned to the student who acquires the minimum of 65 points out of the possible 100 for completing the given requirements. a) continuous assessment: Processing the selected text chapter: 0–25 p. Specialised essay and its presentation: 0–25 p. b) final assessment: Final specialised essay: 0–25 p. Final written exam: 0–25 p.
Learning objectives: The student 1. has complex systematic theoretical, specialised, and methodological knowledge of environmental ethics and the way normative ethics is applied to a specific set of theoretical and practical problems/questions 2. understands the axiological theories and values in the context of nature and natural entities as well as the theoretical approaches to environmental ethics 3. can explain the links between science, evolutionary thinking, environmental and ecological ethics; can justify the non-instrumental value of nature and natural entities, describe and categorise the variability of approaches (human – nature). 4. reflects the ethical problems in a critical way, approaches them creatively and applies their analytical competences in practice to evaluate moral judgement, decision-making, taking actions, and can justify norms. 5. understands the basic theoretical postulates in contemporary eco-ethical discourse and can evaluate certain practical problems from a specific theoretical viewpoint.
Brief outline of the course: 1. Environmental ethics as a type of applied ethics. From ecology to ecological and environmental ethics – interdisciplinarity and transdisciplinarity. Environmental vs. ecological. Environmentalism. Ecologism. 2. Moral-philosophical implications of ecological sciences in the eco-ethical discourse. Ecological knowledge as a path to harmony between humans and the Earth.

3. The historical and philosophical roots of the human vs. nature relationship in western thinking. The genesis of environmental ethics.
4. Naturalism, critical realism, and constructivism in environmental ethics. Nature as an ontological-evolutionary category (J. Dewey's evolutionary naturalism, H. Jonas' new ontology of nature, J. Šmajs' evolutionary ontology – a comparative analysis).
5. Values, assessment, the relationship of values and knowledge in environmental ethics.
6. Moral pluralism and monism, anthropocentric vs. non-anthropocentric value approaches and reasoning in environmental ethics.
7. Theoretical methodological approaches in environmental ethics. A. Leopold's land ethic. A. Schweitzer's reverence for life.
8. Ecophilosophy and ecoethics of Henryk Skolimowski. New reading of nature and new cosmology. New value orientation and the idea of a sacred world.
9. Ethics for a technological civilisation. H. Jonas: ethic of responsibility and heuristics of fear.
10. F. Capra and the search for an ecological paradigm in holism. J. E. Lovelock and the Gaia hypothesis as a known necessity in ecological ethics.

Course Description

University: Matej Bel University in Banská Bystrica
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Code: 2d-prx-004	Course name: Intensive Teaching Practice PHI
Type, extent and method of instruction: Form of instruction: Prax Course type: A (A - Compulsory courses, B - Compulsory elective courses, C - Elective courses) Recommended number of periods: 30s Method of study: combined
Number of credits: 2
Recommended semester/trimester: 4.
Level: II.
Prerequisites:
Course completion conditions: a) continuous assessment: - participation in teaching practice – teaching observations and independent performances b) final assessment: Portfolio of materials from teaching practice: - written records from teaching observations of lessons – teaching observations of student teachers and classmates, - written preparations for student teaching activity, including didactic analysis of the curriculum, - own evaluation of teaching practice – practice report including suggestions and recommendations, - written evaluations of particular lessons taught by the student teacher (this evaluation uses an evaluation sheet in which a student teacher comments on individual parts of the educational process). The maximum number of points possible for the whole course is 100. Overall final assessment is based on continuous and final assessment and it corresponds to the A-FX grading scale: A (100 – 94%), B (93 – 87%), C (86 – 80%), D (79 – 73%), E (72 – 65%). Credits are not assigned to students who acquire less than 65 points. Conditions and recommended literature are updated every year in the course syllabi
Learning objectives: Uninterrupted teaching practice is considered paramount to the comprehensive and integrative form of practical preparation of a student/teacher in the teaching department. The student will be able to integrate various practical experiences achieved in the previous forms of practice with new conditions and connections that were so far unknown. The student will have the opportunity to comprehensively observe the teacher's activity, learn and later be able to solve particular educational situations that arise in the process of teaching and away from it. The student will acquire activities and perform tasks that are close to requirements of a real teacher's course load including their extra-curricular activities.
Brief outline of the course: Contents of the course for continuous teaching practice is to develop projects for lessons, consult the preparation for the lessons with the didactic specialist of the department, and subsequently lead an independent lesson.

Based on this, the student describes the default situation in which the service learning activity will take place and consults it with the instructor. Subsequently, the student drafts their service learning project (default situation, service goals, educational goals, schedule, information of partners, promotion, funding, evaluation methods). The project draft is, again, consulted with the instructor. The student selects the target group and project goals in accordance with their study field and focuses on developing their own text-work competences as well. This course builds on the Literature and Service learning 1 course and enhances the theoretical knowledge of service learning. a) continuous assessment: (10) Active participation in block classes (3 blocks) (10) Consultations (10) Flexibility and appropriate communication (20) Identification of the needs and formulation of the goals (20) Quality of the project draft (the plan form) b) final assessment: Based on the continuous assessment (70%), self-assessment (15%), group assessment (15%). The grading scale: A (100–94%), B (93–87%), C (86–80%), D (79–73%), E (72–65%). To collect the credits, the student has to score at least 65% in each activity (or at least 65% in total).
Learning objectives: Upon completion of this course, the student 1. can explain the point of service learning 2. can work in a team and communicate in an appropriate way 3. can analyse their own needs as well as the needs of the community 4. can formulate the service learning goals based on these needs 5. can prepare a service learning project addressing actual needs and achieve the goals specified 6. understands the importance of personal and social responsibility and civic engagement

Brief outline of the course:

1. The point of service learning.
2. Team work and communication competence development.
3. Identifying the community needs.
4. How to determine the service and educational goals.
5. Planning as a competence – importance, steps.
6. Time management – importance and principles.
7. Promotion before and after the activity takes place.
8. How to evaluate the activities.
9. Service learning project draft.
10. Service learning project draft – evaluation.

Number of credits: 5
Recommended semester/trimester: 1., 3.
Level: II.
Prerequisites:
Course completion conditions: a) continuous assessment: short text interpretation (4 x 2.5 = 10 p.) seminar paper (2 x 10 = 20 p.) b) final assessment: written test focused on the selected topics. The maximum number of points consisting of continuous and final assessment is 100. Credits are assigned to the student who acquires the minimum of 65 points out of the possible 100 for completing the given requirements. Credits will not be awarded to a student who scores less than 10 points in the continuous assessment. The student has the right to one resit. The grading scale: A (100–94%), B (93–87%), C (86–80%), D (79–73%), E (72–65%). Credits are assigned to the student who acquires the minimum of 65 points out of the possible 100 for completing the given requirements. a) continuous assessment: See the course completion conditions. b) final assessment: See the course completion conditions.
Learning objectives: The student enhances their pragmatic study of the selected texts addressing literary studies, which influence literature teaching in schools. They can identify the typical subject-didactic consequences of selecting specific methodological platforms from the major directions, schools, and currents in literary studies. They understand the relationships between contradictory methodological and subject-didactic viewpoints and can compare them. The student can critically evaluate the selected texts addressing literary studies and reflect on them from the viewpoint of teaching Slovak language and literature. They improve their ability to analyse the material and formulate opinions. They learn how to evaluate different professional approaches and verify their justification, evaluate their own arguments and the efficiency of teaching methods. The student learns how to design school literary education based on multiple methodological viewpoints and follows the development of methodology in literary studies. They develop their own professional profile based on the possibilities provided by up-to-date literary studies.
Brief outline of the course:

Literary studies – P. V. Zima's classification of approaches and their subject-didactic consequences: literary studies between Hegel and Kant.

- Marxism and Russian formalism.
- M. Bakhtin.
- The critical theory of the Frankfurt School (T. Adorno)
- Prague structuralism.
- Reader-response criticism (Konstanzer School), phenomenological literary studies.
- Semiotic approaches (R. Barthes, U. Eco, A. Greimas).
- Deconstruction.
- Critical and dialogic literary studies (P. V. Zima).

Zima's model of thinking in literary studies, the plurality of approaches in Slovak literary studies and subject didactics.

University: Matej Bel University in Banská Bystrica
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Code: 2d-tra-01	Course name: More Recent Transdisciplinary Approaches in Literary Studies and School Practice
Type, extent and method of instruction: Form of instruction: Lecture / Seminar Course type: B (A - Compulsory courses, B - Compulsory elective courses, C - Elective courses) Recommended number of periods: 13 / 13 Method of study: combined
Number of credits: 5
Recommended semester/trimester: 1., 3.
Level: II.
Prerequisites:
Course completion conditions: a) continuous assessment: short text interpretation (4 x 2.5 = 10 p.) seminar paper (2 x 10 = 20 p.) b) final assessment: written test focused on the selected topics. The maximum number of points consisting of continuous and final assessment is 100. Credits are assigned to the student who acquires the minimum of 65 points out of the possible 100 for completing the given requirements. Credits will not be awarded to a student who scores less than 10 points in the continuous assessment. The student has the right to one resit. The grading scale: A (100–94%), B (93–87%), C (86–80%), D (79–73%), E (72–65%). Credits are assigned to the student who collects the minimum of 65 points out of the possible 100 for completing the given requirements. a) continuous assessment: See the course completion conditions. b) final assessment: See the course completion conditions.
Learning objectives: The student enhances their pragmatic study of the selected texts addressing literary studies and transdisciplinary texts which influence literature teaching in schools. They can identify the typical subject-didactic consequences of selecting specific methodological platforms from the more recent directions, schools, and currents in literary studies. They understand the relationships between contradictory methodological and subject-didactic viewpoints and can compare them. The student can critically evaluate the selected (transdisciplinary) texts addressing literary studies and reflect on them from the viewpoint of teaching Slovak language and literature. They improve their ability to analyse the material and formulate opinions. They learn how to evaluate different professional approaches and verify their justification, evaluate their own arguments and the efficiency of teaching methods. They learn to approach literary education through combining multiple interlinked perspectives and viewpoints, and to design school literary education based on multiple methodological viewpoints and follows the development of methodology in literary studies and the related disciplines.

They develop their own professional profile based on the possibilities provided by up-to-date literary studies.
Brief outline of the course: More recent transdisciplinary directions in the methodology of literary studies and related fields, and their current and potential impact on school literary education. - Cognitive literary studies (M. Turner). - Empirical literary studies and media culture as a scholarly field (S. Schmidt) - New historicism, cultural studies, feminism. - Biologising (ethology and sociobiology), psychologising, (psychoanalysis, C. G. Jung, evolutionary psychology) and sociologising (L. Bourdieu) trends in transdisciplinarity with the impact on literary education in schools. - “Digital humanities”. - Literary education, individual and collective identities (F. Fukuyama, I. Krastev). - The importance of school literary education and democracy (M. C. Nussbaum, R. Rorty, Z. Kusá). - Literary education and transdisciplinary research of empathy (S. Baroque Cohen, F. de Waal, J. Rifkin)

Type, extent and method of instruction: Form of instruction: Seminar Course type: C (A - Compulsory courses, B - Compulsory elective courses, C - Elective courses) Recommended number of periods: 26 Method of study: combined
Recommended semester/trimester: 1., 3.
Level: II.
Prerequisites:
Course completion conditions: a) continuous assessment: participation in SILab activities – 50% of the overall grade b) final assessment: preparation and presentation of a semester project – 50% of the overall grade Within the continuous assessment, students complete assignments based on project-oriented learning implemented in the Social Innovation Living Lab (SILab) environment. The assessment includes active participation in classes and SILab activities, as well as participation in activities carried out in cooperation with external partners from practice. The final assessment consists of the preparation and presentation of a semester project focused on proposing a solution to a specific real-world problem (e.g., a business model, an innovative solution, a strategy, etc.). A student receives a “passed” grade if they achieve at least 65% of the total course evaluation by fulfilling the specified requirements. A resit for the continuous assessment can be completed no later than the last week of teaching and ongoing study obligations and consists of completing substitute assignments. A resit for the final assessment can be completed during the period designated for completing study obligations and consists of a revised or newly prepared semester project and its presentation, focused on proposing a solution to a specific real-world problem.
Learning objectives: The student: 1. uses appropriate scientific and analytical methods to solve assignments and is able to independently and methodologically correctly address research and applied tasks, 2. applies methods of collecting and processing primary and secondary data in practice, evaluates their suitability, formulates research questions and proposes solutions, 3. designs solutions to problems including an action plan and implementation strategy, applying principles of innovation ecosystems and smart solutions in public, private, and non-profit sectors, 4. designs and tests solutions in a living lab (SILab) using participatory approaches, creates and evaluates business models with regard to sustainability and ESG, 5. works with data and digital tools in designing solutions, 6. uses participatory and co-creation approaches when engaging stakeholders, 7. evaluates the social and economic impact of solutions, integrates knowledge from different disciplines, and presents results to both professional and general audiences.

Brief outline of the course:

Introduction to the course, idea generation, identification of business opportunities, definition of vision and strategic goals. Course Description

University: Matej Bel University in Banská Bystrica
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Code: 2d-smg-01	Course name: State Examination – Diploma Thesis and Defence
Type, extent and method of instruction: Form of instruction: Course type: A (A - Compulsory courses, B - Compulsory elective courses, C - Elective courses) Recommended number of periods: Method of study: combined
Number of credits: 20
Recommended semester/trimester: 3., 4..
Level: II.
Prerequisites:
Course completion conditions: Completion of all compulsory courses in the study programme. Completion of elective and voluntary courses in the quantity prescribed for the study programme (min. 100 credits). Final assessment: The state exam consists of two parts: (1) Diploma thesis (DT) defence. The DT supervisor and opponent create reviews and propose assessment. The State Examination Commission provides a complex evaluation of the DT's quality based on the reviews and student's thesis defence. (2) The state examination also includes a specialised discussion (Methodological Instruction on the State Examination, 2022). During the discussion, the student responds to questions addressing the broader context of their DT subject matter to prove they have the knowledge pertaining to the state examination topics. These topics address the subject didactics, basics of social sciences, pedagogy, and psychology in the psychodidactic context of education. The conditions for obtaining grades A to E take into account both parts of the state examination. They are specified in the current state examination topics.
Learning objectives: 1. The student has advanced knowledge and understanding of the subject matter addressed in the Diploma thesis including its broader context. They can formulate clear conclusions and practical recommendations. The student has developed systematic knowledge of the individual disciplines addressed during their university study. 2. In accordance with the field of study description, the student is required to prove the following (especially in the core curriculum disciplines – pedagogical psychology and social sciences) knowledge: 1) theoretical knowledge 2) practical skills and the ability to apply them in teaching the selected target group of students by providing a specific example of modelling the selected didactic variables in the general psychodidactic context (in accordance with the pedagogical and psychological disciplines that were part of the study). 3. In accordance with the field of study description, the student is required to prove the following knowledge of Slovak language teaching didactics, teaching basic writing, and literature didactics in the context of linguistics and literary studies: 1) theoretical knowledge, 2) practical skills and the ability to apply them in teaching at primary and secondary schools by providing a specific example of modelling the selected didactic variables in teaching Slovak language and literature as an academic subject (in accordance with the linguistic, literary studies, and didactic courses that were part of the study).

4. The student can identify relevant specialised sources as well as the ideas important for the context of their thesis. They have theoretical knowledge of the research topic in practical diagnostic and didactic contexts. They understand the research methodology, and the broader pedagogical, psychological, and social context of the problem. The student follows the bibliographic and citation standards.

5. The student can analyse the subject matter and arrange it into logically and systematically separated and interconnected structural parts of the thesis, design and verify the didactic procedures applied to the subject matter addressed in their thesis, design and implement research, and interpret its results. They can use the theory critically, synthesize the contextual knowledge, and use it in specialised communication, i.e. argumentation and defence of their opinion on the subject matter.

6. The student creates a consistent specialised text (focused on theory/didactics or theory/research) in which they approach the relevant specialised sources in a critical manner and uses the relevant sources in a creative way.

They can creatively process the relevant specialised sources, offer own original ideas and ways of addressing the subject matter.

Brief outline of the course:

1. Expert knowledge of the diploma thesis (DT) topic including its broader international, social, pedagogical and psychological contexts.

2. DT thesis topic in the context of the Teacher Training and Education Science FoS (ISCED 2 and 3).

3. Didactic transformation of the selected theoretical knowledge of the academic subject.

4. Research methodology.

5. Integrated knowledge of the disciplines studied including their broader context in accordance with the state examination topics. Integrated knowledge of the theory of upbringing applied to the DT topic.

6. Specialised communication and argumentation.

7. Working with literature, bibliographic and citation standards.

8. Presentation skills.

Course Description

University: Matej Bel University in Banská Bystrica
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Code: 2d-stu-803	Course name: Student Tutoring SL 1
Type, extent and method of instruction: Form of instruction: Course type: C (A - Compulsory courses, B - Compulsory elective courses, C - Elective courses) Recommended number of periods: Method of study: combined
Number of credits: 3
Recommended semester/trimester: 1., 3.
Level: II.
Prerequisites:
Course completion conditions: At the beginning of the semester, the student reads the study regulations and identifies the needs of students who need tutorship. Upon consulting with the department study advisor, the student creates a plan of awareness raising activities. During the semester, the student performs awareness raising activities. Upon completion of the semester, they draft a self-reflective evaluation report. a) continuous assessment: analysis and evaluation of complaints/needs/issues: 0–20 p. Preparation of activities: 0–25 p. Implementation of these activities: 0–25 p. Total: 0–70 p. b) final assessment: completing the final self-reflective evaluation report addressing the activities performed and their results including the relevant appendices (activity plan, promotion, list of attendees, photo documentation), and recommendations 0–30 p. The grading scale: A (100–94%), B (93–87%), C (86–80%), D (79–73%), E (72–65%). Credits are assigned to the student who collects the minimum of 65 points (%).
Learning objectives: The student: 1. is able to identify the needs and problems of the tutored students 2. can communicate properly within the student community 3. can independently provide consulting activities 4. navigates the academic environment well enough to provide useful advice 5. creates a communication platform on a social network and uses it efficiently 6. can evaluate other students' needs 7. can select appropriate forms of promotion of their activities 8. can evaluate the benefit of their creative activities and present their results.
Brief outline of the course: The tutor cooperates with the department ECTS coordinators in consulting and providing information on study issues to students in accordance with the study rules and valid legislation.

They self-study the study regulations. In cooperation with the study advisor, they arrange meetings with new students at the beginning of the academic year. They inform the new students about life at the university, their rights and responsibilities, and explain the principles of credit study. They advise students on the selection of courses and creation of study plans in AiS2. They share their own experience with the selection and acquisition of study literature, studying for exams, individual study possibilities, scholarships, and participating in student organisations. They identify, analyse, and evaluate the tutored students' needs (e.g. via an online survey). In cooperation with the department study advisor and other student tutors, they prepare informational presentations and discussions, and promotes them. They inform other students on important dates in the academic schedule. They collect complaints and ideas, evaluate, and communicate them to the responsible staff. They communicate via an appropriate social media platform as well.
